Explanation of certain Grammatical Terms & Symbols

- 1. Fatḥah is the vowel sign () denoting "a".
- 2. Kasrah is the vowel sign () denoting "i".
- 3. Dammah is the vowel sign () denoting "u".
- 4. Sukūn is the sign (___) denoting absence of a vowel.
- 5. Shaddah is the sign (___) denoting doubling of the letter.

"ā" is long "a" as in father.

"T" is long "i" as in machine.

"ū" is long "u" as in rule.

LESSON 1

In this lesson we learn the following things:

What is this?	مَا هَذَا ؟
This is a book.	هَذَا كِتَابٌ.
Is this a house?	أَهَذَا بَيْتُ ؟
Yes, this is a house.	نَعَمْ، هَذَا بَيْتُ.
No, this is a mosque.	لا، هَذَا مَسْجِدٌ.
Who is this?	مَنْ هَذَا ؟

Note:

- 1. أهاذًا is pronounced هَاذًا but it is written without the first alif.
- 2. Arabic has no word corresponding to the English «is», i.e. Arabic has no copula.
- 3. There is no word in Arabic corresponding to «a» in English as in: «This is a book».

The n-sound at the end of the Arabic noun (kitābu-n, baytu-n, masjidu-n) is the Arabic indefinite article corresponding to the English «a»/«an». This n-sound is called tanwīn.

4. The particle placed at the beginning of a statement turns it into a question, e.g.,

آهَذَا بَيْتُ ؟ This is a house?

In this lesson, we learn the use of ذَلِكَ meaning «that», and و meaning «and», e.g.:

This is a house and that is a mosque.

Note:

- 1. ذَالِكَ is pronounced ذَالِكَ but is written without the alif.
- 2. The word j is written close to the word following it.

Vocabulary

In this lesson we learn the use of the Arabic definite article «al» which corresponds to the English «the».

When the definite article «al» is prefixed to a noun naturally the indefinite article «-n» is dropped, e.g.:

البَيْتُ
$$\Longrightarrow$$
 بَيْتُ
baytu-n \Longrightarrow al-baytu

Arabic has 28 letters. Of these 14 are called solar letters, and the other 14 are called lunar letters.

In the articulation of the solar letters the tip or the blade of the tongue is involved as in t, n, r, s, etc. The tip or the blade of the tongue does not play any part in the articulation of the lunar letters as b, w, m, k, etc.

When $\langle\langle J \rangle\rangle$ is prefixed to a noun beginning with a solar letter the $\langle\langle J \rangle\rangle$ of $\langle\langle J \rangle\rangle$ is assimilated to the solar letter, e.g. al-shamsu (the sun) is pronounced ash-shamsu.

No change takes place in writing (الشَّمْسُ). The assimilation is indicated by the shaddah on the first letter of the noun.

No such assimilation takes place with the lunar letters, e.g., al-qamaru (the moon) is pronounced al-qamaru (القَمَلُ).

Here are some more examples of the assimilation of the «l» of «al» to the solar letter al-najmu becomes an-najmu al-rajulu becomes ar-rajulu al-dīku becomes ad-dīku al-samaku becomes as-samaku See the table of lunar and solar letters (page 19 in the Arabic section).

Note that the «a» of «al» is pronounced only when it is not preceded by another word. If it is preceded by a word it is dropped in pronunciation, though it remains in writing, e.g. al-baytu. Here the «a» is pronounced, but if it is preceded by «wāw» meaning «and» the «a» is dropped and the phrase is pronounced wal-baytu, not wa al-baytu.

To indicate this omission in pronunciation this sign «—» is placed above the hamzah:

The initial vowel (a, i, or u) which is omitted when preceded by a word is called hamzatu l-waşl.

The door is open.

The pen is broken.

البَابُ مَفْتُوحٌ. القَلَمُ مَكْسُورٌ.

Note: We have learnt that $tanw\bar{t}n$ is the indefinite article, and it is to be translated as «a», e.g.:

A house بَيْتٌ

This does not apply to adjectives like: مَفْتُوحٌ, (open), and (broken), etc.

Vocabulary

In this lesson we learn the use of prepositions.

1. Arabic nouns have endings to show their functions in the sentence. The normal ending of a noun is -u as in

A noun with the normal ending is called ومَرْفُوعٌ .

After a preposition this ending changes to: -i e.g.:

A noun preceded by a preposition is said to be مُجَرُورٌ .

2. In this lesson we also learn two pronouns: هُوَ (he, it), and هِيَ (she, it).

In Arabic all nouns are either masculine or feminine.

The word في has a long «ī». But when it is followed by «al» the «ī» is shortened because in Arabic long vowels are not followed by a consonant which has no vowel. (f ī l \rightarrow f i l)

A masculine noun is referred to by the pronoun whether it denotes a human being, an animal or a thing. e.g.:

And a feminine noun is referred to by the pronoun whether it denotes a human being, an animal or a thing. e.g.:

Most feminine nouns end with a round $t\bar{a}$ $\langle\langle \bar{b}\rangle\rangle$ but there are some which do not have any special ending.

Note:

- 1. We have learnt that the tanwīn is the indefinite article, e.g. عُنْتُ a house. This rule does not apply to proper nouns. So خامِدُ is just «Ḥāmid», not «a Ḥāmid».
- 2. Feminine proper nouns have no tanwīn, e.g.: فَاطِمَةُ ، زَيْنَبُ ، آمِنَةُ

LESSON 4a

LESSON 4a

meaning (from) and إِلَى meaning (from) meaning الله meaning

We also learn two more pronouns: أنْتَ (I) and أنْتَ (You).

(I) is for both masculine and feminine, e.g.

I am Muhammad.

أنَا مُحَمَّدُ.

I am Āminah.

أَنَا آمنَةُ.

But أَنْتَ (you) is only for masculine singular. You will learn the feminine and plural forms later.

We also learn here two verbs ذَهَبَ (he went) and خَرَجَ (he went out).

Note the following:

Where is Bilāl?

أَيْنَ بِلَالٌ ؟

He went to the mosque.

ذَهَبَ إِلَى المَسْجِدِ.

Bilāl went to the mosque.

ذَهَبَ بِلَالٌ إِلَى المَسْجِدِ.

So خَمْبَ means «he went» but if it is followed by a noun as the subject, the pronoun «he» is dropped.

In this lesson we learn the following:

In کِتَابُ بِلَالِ the first word is the thing possessed.

It is called muḍāf. The second word \checkmark is the possessor. It is called muḍāf ilayhi.

Note:

- a) that the muḍāf takes neither the definite nor the indefinite article. So it is wrong to say الكِتَابُ بِلَالٍ or كِتَابُ بِلَالٍ. The muḍāf is definite by position, and does not need the definite article.
- b) the muḍāf ilayhi is مَجْرُورٌ. It can have tanwīn as in the first example or الله as in the second example.

c) کتاب مَنْ is not کتاب مَنْ because it is indeclinable, i.e., it does not change to indicate its function. There are certain indeclinable nouns in Arabic which remain unchanged.

and مَجْرُورٌ is مَكْتَبِ because of the preposition عَلَى مَكْتَبِ المُدَرِّسِ and مَجْرُورٌ is المُدَرِّسِ because it is muḍāf ilayhi.

- 2. تَحْتَ (under). The noun following مَجْرُورٌ is مَجْرُورٌ because it is muḍāf ilayhi: تَحْتَ الْكِتَابِ. تَحْتَ الْكِتَابِ.
- 3. is a vocative particle. A noun following is a vocative particle. A noun following is a vocative particle.

4. The words ابْنُ and اسْمُ commence with hamzatu l-waṣl. When preceded by a word the initial «i-» is dropped in pronunciation.

ism-u l-walad-i bilāl-u-n wa sm-u l-bint-i āminat-u

الخالُ	maternal uncle	الإبن	son	الطّبيب	doctor

In this lesson we learn:

1. هَذْهِ but the alif is omitted in هَاذِهِ but the alif is omitted in writing.

2. Nouns and adjectives are made feminine by adding a «» at the end. The last letter before the before takes a fathah «a» e.g.:

Certain nouns have a separate form for feminine, e.g.:

All nouns in Arabic are either masculine or feminine. Feminine nouns and adjectives usually have the ö ending. But there are certain words which do not have this ending. Students when learning a new noun must learn its gender also. Double members of the body are usually feminine while single members are masculine, e.g.:

Fem	Feminine		Masculine
يَدُّ	hand	رَأْسِيْ	head
ڔؚڿڷ	leg	أُنْفُّ	nose
عَيْنْ	eye	هُ فَ	mouth
هجو ه اُذن	ear	وَجْهُ	face

3. \bigcup is a preposition meaning «belongs to, for» e.g.:

This belongs to Bilāl and that belongs to Ḥāmid. بَعْدُا لِبِلَالٍ، وَذَلِكَ لِحَامِدٍ. Praise belongs to Allāh. الحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ.

Note that the word الله becomes الله lillāh-i (belonging to Allāh) by just dropping the alif. There is no need to add lām to the word.

means «whose» or «belonging to whom» e.g.:

لِمَنْ هَذَا ؟ (Whom does this belong to?) إلَمَنْ هَذَا ؟ Whose is the book? إلَمَنِ الكِتَابُ ؟

Note that مَن becomes مَن when followed by اَلْ

4. أَيْضاً means «also», e.g.:

This is beautiful, and that is also beautiful.

5. جداً means «very», e.g.:

In this lesson we learn تِلْكَ which is feminine of ذَلِكَ (that) e.g.:

This is Bilāl and that is Ḥāmid.

هَذَا بِلَالٌ، وَذَلِكَ حَامِدٌ.

This is Āminah and that is Maryam.

In this lesson we learn:

1. How to say «this book» in Arabic. We have seen that هَذَا لَكِتَابُ means «this is a book». Now we learn that هَذَا الْكِتَابُ means «this book». This is not a sentence.

To make it a sentence we must add a predicate e.g.:

All demonstrative pronouns can be used to make this construction, e.g.:

2. We have seen that the normal ending of a noun is «-u» and it changes to «-i» after prepositions and when the noun is a possessor, e.g.:

Nouns ending in long «-ā» have no endings. They remain unchanged, e.g.:

3. خَلْفَ (behind), أَمَامَ (in front of). The noun after these have «-i» ending because it is mudāf ilavhi e.g.:

The house is behind the mosque.

Ḥāmid is in front of the teacher.

4. جَلَسَ means «he sat».

Where did Muhammad sit?

أَيْنَ جَلَسَ مَحُمَّدٌ ؟

He sat in front of the teacher.

جَلَسَ أَمَامَ المُدَرِّس.

Part A

In this lesson we learn:

1. The adjective in Arabic. The adjective in Arabic follows the noun it qualifies, i.e. unlike in English it comes after the noun, e.g.:

- In Arabic the adjective is called na't (نَعْتُ), and the noun it qualifies is called man'ūt (مَنْعُوتٌ). The adjective is in agreement with the noun in the following matters:
- A) Gender. The adjective of a masculine noun is masculine, and that of a feminine noun is feminine, e.g.:

B) Definite or indefinite article. If the noun is definite the adjective is also definite. And if the noun is indefinite so is the adjective, e.g.:

C) Case. The adjective has the same ending as the noun, e.g.:

I am in a new house. (fī bayt-i-n jadīd-i-n)

The new house is beautiful. (al-bayt-u 1-jadīd-u)

Who is in the new house? (fi 1-bayt-i 1-jadīd-i)

أَنَا فِي بَيْتٍ جَدِيدٍ. البَيْتُ الجَدِيدُ جَمِيلٌ. مَنْ فِي البَيْتِ الجَدِيدِ ؟

2. Adjectives ending in «-an» have no tanwin, e.g.:

lazy كَسْلَانُ

hungry جَوْعَانُ

thirsty عَطْشَانُ

angry غَضْبَانُ

full مَلاَنُ

Part B

In this part we learn:

1. Adjective qualifying a definite noun, e.g.:

2. Relative pronoun الّذِي. If it refers to a human being it is to be translated «who», and if it refers to an animal or a thing it is translated «which», e.g.:

The man who went out of the mosque just now is a famous merchant.

The house which is in front of the mosque belongs to the imām.

3. Note that when \bigcup is used with a noun having $\mathring{\bigcup}$, the alif of $\mathring{\bigcup}$ is omitted.

4. عند (with). The noun following it has «-i» ending because it is muḍāf ilayhi, e.g.:

المُدَرِّسُ عِنْدَ المُدِيرِ. The teacher is with the headmaster.

In this lesson we learn:

1. The possessive pronouns: کے، هُ، هَا، ي

kitāb-u-ka «your book».

Here «your» is for masculine singular.

2015

kitāb-u-hū «his book»

kitāb-u-hā «her book»

كِتَابُها

kitāb-ī for kitāb-u-ī «my book»

كِتَابِي

These pronouns are not full-fledged words. They are like suffixes attached to the nouns.

2. We have seen «your book» is كِتَابُكُ and «his book» is كِتَابُكُ.

The word for «father» is 🖑 and for «brother» is 📜 .

«your brother» is أَخُكُ and not أَخُوكَ and not

An extra wāw و has to be added between the muḍāf and the muḍāf ilayhi. In the same way «his father» is not أَبُوهُ but أَبُوهُ اللهِ أَلِهُ أَلَّهُ أَلِهُ أَلِهُ أَلِهُ أَلِهُ أَلِهُ أَلِهُ أَلِهُ أَلِهُ أَلَّهُ أَلَّا أَلَّهُ أَلَّا أَلَّهُ أَلَّا أَلَّهُ أَلَّهُ أَلَّهُ أَلَّهُ أَلَّهُ أَلَّهُ أَلَّا أَلَّهُ أَلَّا أَلَّهُ أَلَّا أَلَّهُ أَلَّا أَلَّهُ أَلَّا أَلَّهُ أَلَّا أَلَّهُ أَلَّهُ أَلّا أَلَّا أَلّا أَلَّا لَا أَلّ

Note the following:

«Muḥammad's house» is

بَيْتُ مُحَمَّدٍ

But «Muḥammad's father» is

أُبُو مُحَمَّدٍ

أَخُو مُحَمَّدٍ And «Muḥammad's brother» is

«My father» and «my brother» have no extra wāw, e.g. أُنِي، أُخِي.

The nouns which take this extra $w\bar{a}w$ when they are $mud\bar{a}f$ are five words.

You have learnt two, and you will learn the other three in the future إِنْ شَاءَ اللّهُ.

- 3. We have already learnt that the word seemening with. It is also used to convey the idea of wto have, e.g.:
 - ? أُعِنْدَكُ قَلَمٌ Have you a pen? (literally, Is there a pen with you?).
- 4. We have already learnt the preposition \bigcup meaning «belonging to». When it is attached to the pronouns it takes fathah (\bigcup):

(belonging to you),

(belonging to him),

(belonging to her),

but (belonging to me) has kasrah.

Note:

means «I have a brother», literally «A brother belongs to me. »

means «I have a mouth», literally «A mouth belongs to me. »

It is wrong to say عِنْدِي أَخٌ / عِنْدِي أَخٌ because عِنْدِي أَخٌ is used with things which are separable, and relations and parts of the body are not of this nature.

5. We have learnt ذَهَبْتَ (he went). Now we learn ذَهُبُتُ (you went) (masculine singular) and ذَهَبْتُ (I went).

أَذَهَبْتَ إِلَى الْمَدْرَسَةِ الْيَومَ ؟ Yes, I went.

6. We have learnt that feminine proper nouns have no tanwīn e.g. مُرْيَحُ، آمِنَةُ. Likewise, masculine proper nouns with ö ending also have no tanwīn, e.g.:

7. من means «with». To understand the difference between عند and عند remember that if you say:

It means that the teacher has gone to the headmaster's office, and he is with him there, but:

doesn't have this restriction. He can be with the headmaster anywhere.

Note that the noun after has «-i» ending because it is muḍāf ilayhi.

- 8. بِالْجَامِعَةِ (at the university). بِ is a preposition meaning «at» or «in».

 Note that الْجَامِعَةُ الْإِسْلامِيَّةُ بِالْمَادِينَةِ الْمُنَوَّرَةِ means «The Islamic University at Madinah Munawwarah».
- 9. In Lesson 1 we have learnt that الله means «what». This word is also used as a negative particle. So مَا عِنادِي سَيَّارَةٌ means «I don't have a car».

Vocabulary

This is a revision lesson. It contains only two new words: أُحِبُّ and أُحِبُّ

1. فيه means «in it», e.g.:

Who is in the house?

مَنْ فِي البَيْتِ ؟

There are my father and my mother in it.

فِيهِ أَبِي وَأُمِّي.

2. The feminine is فيها, e.g.:

Who is in the room?

مَنْ فِي الغُرْفَةِ ؟

There is my brother in it.

فِيها أُخِي.

3. أُحِبُّ means «I love, I like», e.g.:

I love my father, my mother, my brother and my sister.

أُحِبُّ أَبِي وَأُمِّي وَأُخِي وَأُخِي وَأُخْتِي.

The object of a verb is مَنْصُوبُ i.e., it takes «-a» ending. But it does not appear in a noun which has the possessive pronoun of the first person singular attached to it. Here are some examples of the object without the possessive pronoun of the first person:

(uḥibbu llāh-a): I love Allāh.

أُحِبُّ الله.

(uḥibbu r-rasūl-a): I love the Messenger.

أُحِبُّ الرَّسُولَ

(uḥibbu rasūl-a llāhi): I love the Messenger of Allāh.

أُحِبُّ رَسُولَ

(uḥibbu 1-lughat-a l-'arabiyyat-a): I love the Arabic language.

أُحِبُّ اللُّغَةَ العَرَبِيَّةَ.

Here we can learn تُحِثُّ (you love) (masculine singular).

NOTE: The words مَاذَا do not have the «-a» ending of being the object because they are indeclinable, i.e., they remain unchanged.

In this lesson we learn the following:

1. We have learnt before أُنْتِ (you) for masculine singular. Now we learn أُنْتِ (you) for feminine singular, e.g.:

Where are you from, Āminah?

The possessive pronoun from الله is أُنْتِ is الله «-ki», e.g.:

Where is your house, Maryam?

2. We have already learnt that the possessive pronoun from أنتَ is أنتَ e.g.:

Where is your house, Bilāl?

(you went) ذَهَبْتَ (I went) and ذَهَبْتُ (you went).

Now we learn ذَهْبَتْ (she went), e.g.:

Where is Āminah?

She went to the university.

If the subject is mentioned, the pronoun «she» has to be dropped, e.g.:

Maryam went to the school.

In ذَهْبَتْ the last letter نُ has $suk\bar{u}n$. If a verb like this is followed by الله the $suk\bar{u}n$ is changed to kasrah, e.g.:

The girl went.

3. We have already learnt الَّذِي (who, which) for masculine singular. Now we learn الَّتِي for feminine singular, e.g.:

The girl student who sat in front of the lady teacher is from Germany.

السَّاعَةُ الَّتِي عَلَى المَكْتَبِ لِلْمُدَرِّسِ.

The watch which is on the table belongs to the teacher.

4. We have learnt كِتَابُكَ أَنْتَ (your book). Now note هَذَا كِتَابُكَ أَنْتَ (this is your book).

Here الله has been added for emphasis. This is used in case there is doubt or dispute.

Part A

In this lesson we learn:

1. The plurals of nouns and adjectives. In English, adjectives have no plural form. We say: «good man» and «good men». But in Arabic even adjectives have plural forms.

In English we have two kinds of plural forms:

1) Sound, and (2) Broken

In the sound plural the word retains its original form e.g.:

book \rightarrow books, pen \rightarrow pens.

In the broken plural the original form of the word is changed to a great extent e.g.:

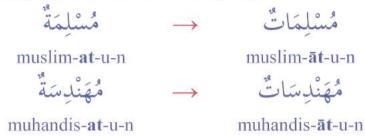

man \rightarrow men, woman \rightarrow women.

In Arabic we have these two kinds of plural forms: sound and broken.

1) The sound plural is either masculine or feminine. The sound masculine plural has «-ûna» ending, e.g.:

The sound feminine plural has «āt-u-n» ending, e.g.:

Note that in this plural form the singular has short «a» before the «t» («muslim-at-u-n»), and the «t» is round (ö), whereas in the plural the «a» is long, and the «t» is open («muslim-āt-u-n»).

In pronunciation the only difference between the singular and the plural is the shortness and length of «a»: muslimat-u-n muslimāt-u-n

2) The broken plural. Unlike in English, the broken plural is very widely used in Arabic. There are more than twenty patterns of the broken plural. Some are given in this lesson. These are:

فُعُولٌ	نَجْمْ	نُجُومٌ
$(1u2\bar{u}3-u-n)^*$	najm-un	nujūm-u-n
فُعُلُ	كِتَابُ	كتب عبي
(1u2u3-u-n)	kitāb-u-n	kutub-u-n
فِعَالٌ	جَبَكُ	جِبَالٌ
(1i2ā3-u-n)	jabal-u-n	jibāl-u-n
فُعَالَ	تَاجِرْ	تُجَّارٌ
(1u22ā3-u-n)	tājir-u-n	tujjār-u-n
أَفْعَالٌ	قَلَمْ	أُقْلَامْ
(a12ā3-u-n)	qalam-u-n	aqlām-u-n
فُعَلاءُ	زَمِيكُ	زُمَلاغُ
(lu2a3ā'-u) This is without tanwīn	zamīl-u-n	zumalā'-u
أُفْعِلاءُ	صَدِيقٌ	أُصْدِقَاءُ
(al2i3ā'-u) This is without tanwīn	ṣadīq-u-n	așdiqā'-u
فِعْلَةٌ	اً خُ	ٳٟڂٛۅؘڎٞ
(li23at-u-n)	akh-u-n	ikhwat-u-n

The student is advised to learn the plural form of every new noun and adjective he/she learns.

2. The plural of هَوُّلَاءِ is هَذِهِ (hā'ulā'i), e.g.:

This is a merchant.

These are merchants.

^{*} The number 1, 2 and 3 refer to the first, second and third letters of the word.

هَوُلَاءِ مُدَرِّسَاتٌ. هَذِهِ مُدَرِّسَاتٌ.

This is a lady teacher. These are lady teachers.

Note that مَوُّلَاءِ is mostly used with human beings. Its use to refer to non-human beings is rare. See Lesson 16 to find out what word to be used with non-human beings.

3. The plural of هُو (he) is هُو (they) (masculine). Unlike the singular هُو the plural هُو the plural هُو is used to refer only to human beings, e.g.:

هُمْ مُدَرِّسُونَ. هُوَ مُدَرِّسُ.

He is a teacher. They are teachers.

The plural of 4 (his) is 4 (their), e.g.:

Where is their house?

أَيْنَ بَيْتُهُمْ ؟

أَبُوهُمْ تَاجِرٌ شَهِيرٌ. Their father is a famous merchant.

Note that the words for (they) and (their) have the same form (🎉).

4. We have learnt ذَهُبُوا (he went). Now «they went» is ذَهُبُو dhahabū.

Note that there is an alif at the end of the word which is not pronounced. Note that the pronoun that we have learnt in this part of the lesson is masculine. We will learn the feminine pronoun in Part B of this lesson.

5. مُعْضُ (some), e.g.:

Some of them are teachers, and some (of them) are engineers.

Vocabulary

name اِسْمٌ (ج أَسْمَاءٌ) young man فَتَى (ج فِتْيَةٌ)

Part B

In this part we learn the following:

e.g. هُنَّ e.g. (she) is هِيَ e.g.

The plural of (her) is (their). Note that the pronouns for «they» and «their» are the same.

هُنَّ زَمِيلَاتِي، وَهَذَا بَيْتُهُنَّ. . They are my class-mates and this is their house.

- 2. We have already learnt that the plural of هَوُلاءِ is هَوُلاءِ i.e., it is the same for both the masculine and the feminine.
- 3. We have learnt in Part A that ذَهُبُوا means «they went» (masculine). «they went» (feminine) is ذَهُبُنَ (dhahab-na), e.g.:

Where are your brothers?

أَيْنَ إِخْوَتُكَ ؟

They went to the university.

And where are your sisters?

They went to the library.

They went to the library.

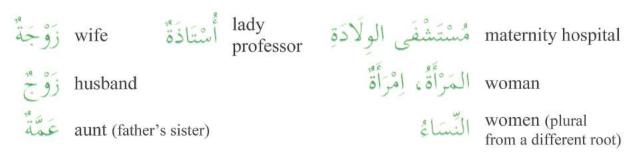

4. We have already learnt the formation of the sound feminine plural. In the pronunciation the «a» before the «t» is lengthened. In writing, in addition to this, the «round tā» is changed to «open tā» e.g.:

Note that the following plurals are irregular:

Vocabulary

Part C

In this part we learn that the plural of غَلِكَ and عَلْكُ is أُولُئِكَ is (those). Note the wāw (و) in أُولُئِكَ is not pronounced. The word is pronounced ulā'ika.

In this lesson we learn the following:

1. The plural of أَنْتُمْ (you) (masculine singular) is أَنْتُمْ, e.g.:

The plural of 4 (your) is 4, e. g.:

2. The plural of نَحْنُ Like أَنَا its plural نَحْنُ refers to both the masculine and the feminine, e.g.:

We are Muslims (masculine).

We are Muslims (feminine).

We have learnt that يَيْتِي means «my house». Now we learn that «our house» is لَيْتُنَا, bayt-u-nā, e.g.:

Allāh is our Lord.

Islam is our faith.

Muḥammad (Peace and blessing of Allāh be upon him) is our Prophet.

3. فَهُبْتُمْ means «you went» (masc. sing.). ذَهَبْتُمْ means «you went» (masc. pl.) e.g.:

4. فَمُبْتُ means «I went». And «we went» is ذَهَبْتُ (dhahab-nā). Note that «they went» (feminine) is ذَهَبْنَ (dhahab-na). The difference between the two is that in the final «a» is short, and in ذَهَبْنَا it is long.

5. We have seen that the feminine proper nouns have no tanwin, e.g.:

Now we learn that the non-Arabic proper nouns also have no tanwīn, e.g.:

The names of most of the prophets are non-Arabic, and therefore they have no $tanw\bar{t}n$, e.g.:

If, however, the non-Arabic proper noun has only three letters, and the second letter is $s\bar{a}kin$ (i. e., has no vowel) and is masculine, it has $tanw\bar{t}n$, e.g:

6. We have learnt that the muḍāf is definite by position. So, when the muḍāf has an adjective it must be definite, e.g.:

Here يَّنْتُ is muḍāf, and it is definite by position. The same applies to the muḍāf whose muḍāf ilayhi is a possessive pronoun, e.g. يَنْتُهُ الْجَلِيدُ (his new house).

Note the following:

7. وُيُّ (which). It is used as muḍāf, e.g.:

Which student went out?

﴿ اللَّهِ عَالِبٍ خَرَجَ ؟

When preceded by a preposition it is مَجْرُورٌ e.g.:

مِنْ أَيِّ بَلَدٍ أَنْتَ ؟ (ayy-i) (ayy-i) أَنْتَ ؟ In which classroom did you sit?

It can be منصوب e.g.:

Which language do you like? (ayy-a) ؟ ثُعَةٍ تُحِبُّ ؟

		أهلا وسهلا ومرحبا	welcome
طفلة	child (feminine)	الدُّسْتُورُ	constitution (law)

الدِّينُ	religion	اليُونَانُ	Greece
شَفَاهُ اللَّهُ	May Allāh grant him health!	(ج إِخْوَةً، إِخْوَانٌ)	brother أُخْ

In this lesson we learn the following:

1. The plural of أُنْتُنَّ (you) (feminine singular) is أُنْتُنَّ.

Who are you, sisters?

مَنْ أَنْتُنَّ يَا أَخَوَاتِي ؟ نَحْنُ بَنَاتُ الإِمَام.

We are the imām's daughters.

2. The plural of $\stackrel{4}{\smile}$ (your) (feminine singular) is $\stackrel{5}{\smile}$.

Where is your house, ladies?

أَيْنَ بَيْتُكُنَّ يَا سَيِّدَاتُ ؟

Our house is near the mosque.

بَيْتُنَا قَرِيبٌ مِنَ المَسْجِدِ.

3. We have learnt ذَهَبْتُنَّ (you went) (feminine singular). Its plural is ذَهَبْتُنَّ , e.g.:

Where did you go, sisters?

أَدْنَ ذَهَبْتُ مَ يَا أَخَوَاتُ ؟

Where did you go, brothers?

أَيْنَ ذَهَبْتُمْ يَا إِخْوَانُ ؟

4. قَبْل means «before», بَعْد means «after». They are always muḍāf, and the noun following them is مُجْرُورٌ, e.g.:

after the lesson

بَعْدَ الدَّرْسِ

before the prayer

قَبْلَ الصَّلَاةِ

5. e means «he returned».

أَرْجَعَ الإِمَامُ مِنَ المَسْجِدِ ؟ Has the imām returned from the mosque?

ذَهَبْتُ إِلَى المَسْجِدِ قَبْلَ الأَذَانِ، وَرَجَعْتُ بَعْدَ الصَّلَاةِ.

I went to the mosque before the adhān and returned after the salāt.

In this lesson we learn the following:

1. In Arabic, nouns are classified as (1) rational and (2) irrational.

They are also called intelligent and unintelligent.

Rational nouns are those that refer to human beings. Angels, and such beings are also included in this class. Irrational nouns refer to things, animals and concepts.

In the singular there is no difference between these two groups. In the plural, however, there is a very important difference.

Plurals of rational nouns are treated as plural, so plural words like «they» and «these» are used to refer to them.

Plurals of irrational nouns are treated as feminine singular, e.g.:

(عَاقِلْ) Rational

(غَيْرُ عَاقِل) Irrational

So regard the plurals of irrational nouns as feminine singular.

Note:

This is the basic rule. There are exceptions to this rule, which you will learn later on.

2. We have learnt some patterns of the broken plural. Here are some more:

Vocabulary

river النَّهْوُ sea البَحْوُ

hotel الفُنْدُقُ

airplane الطَّائِرةُ

This is a continuation of lesson 16. It contains no new constructions.

Note that the plural of مُمَرِّ is مُمَرِّ and also حَمِيرٌ.

In this lesson we learn the following:

1. Unlike English, Arabic has three numbers: singular, plural and dual. Dual refers to two; and more than two is plural. The dual form ends in «-āni», e.g.:

The dual of هَذَانِ is هَذِهِ and of هَذَانِ is هَذَانِ e.g.:

The dual of هُمَا is هِيَ e.g.:

They (ewo) are in the result.

Note that the adjective qualifying a dual noun is also dual.

2. من means «how many?».

Note that the noun following مَنْصُوبٌ is singular, and is مَنْصُوبٌ, e.g.:

Note that a مَنْصُوبٌ noun with tanwīn takes an alif which is not pronounced, e.g.:

But a noun ending in the round $t\bar{a} \ll \delta$ does not take this alif, e.g.:

Vocabulary

writing board العَجَلَةُ الرَّيَالُ riyal festival الرِّيَالُ riyal إلسَّنَةُ وَلَّ السَّنَةُ السَّنَةُ السَّنَةُ السَّنَةُ الرَّكْعَةُ (ج رَكَعَاتُ) window النَّافِذَةُ الرَّكْعَةُ (ج رَكَعَاتُ) rak'ah (a unit of salār) ruler (for drawing lines) shop, store

Note that the second letter «k» has sukūn in the singular and fathah in the plural.

In this lesson we learn the numbers 3 to 10 with a masculine noun following them. The word for «one» is واحدٌ and it follows the noun as an adjective e.g.:

The word for «two» is اِثْنَانِ and this also follows the noun as an adjective, e.g.:

But usually the word اِثْنَانِ is omitted because the dual form is enough to suggest the meaning of «two». But اِثْنَانِ is used for emphasis.

Numbers 3 to 10: these numbers are used as muḍāf e.g.:

The noun that denotes the thing numbered is called ma'dūd (مُعْدُودٌ).

Note that the ma 'dūd is plural; and it is مَجْرُورٌ because it is muḍāf ilayhi.

e.g.: مَنْصُوبٌ or مَجْرُورٌ، مَرْفُوعٌ e.g.:

Note: In ؟ كُمْ ثَمَنُ هَذَا الكِتَابِ (What is the price of this book?) there is an omission.

The word omitted is ويالاً or any other word denoting a monetary unit, e.g.:

28 L &	all	شُكْراً		thanks
كُلُّهُ م	all of them	ج أَيَّامٌ)	اليَوْمُ (day
خُلُّكُمْ	all of you		الثَّمَنُ	price

أُورْبَا	Europe		الجَيْبُ	pocket

In this lesson we learn the numbers from 3 to 10 with the feminine $ma'd\bar{u}d$. We have already learnt these numbers with masculine $ma'd\bar{u}d$, e.g.:

Three sons أَبْنَاءٍ

Now if the ma'dūd is feminine, the «tā-marbūṭah» at the end of the number is omitted, e.g.:

three daughters عَلَاثُهُ أَبْنَاءٍ three daughters عَلَاثُ بَنَاتٍ three sons أَرْبَعُ أَخْوَاتٍ four sisters أَرْبَعُ أَخْوَاتٍ four brothers خَمْسُ أُمَّهَاتٍ six women خَمْسُ أُمَّهَاتٍ six women سِتَّةُ رِجَالٍ six women سِبَّةُ طُلَّاتٍ seven female students سَبْعُ طَالِبَاتٍ eight rooms عَمَانِيْ غُرَفٍ eight rooms

Note that تَمَانِيْ has sukūn on the last letter.

e.g.: اِثْنَتَانِ is اِثْنَانِ and of وَاحِدَةٌ is وَاحِدَ e.g.: لِي أُخْتَانِ أَثْنَتَانِ لِي أُخْتُ وَاحِدَةٌ

This is a test lesson. There is no new construction in it. There are few new words. They are:

We have learnt several groups of nouns and adjectives which do not have tanwīn. Most nouns and adjectives have tanwīn.

Tanwīn is omitted in the following cases:

a) when the noun or the adjective has الكِتَابُ: الكِتَابُ e.g.: الكِتَابُ

b) when it is muḍāf, e.g.: كِتَابُ بِلَالٍ

c) when it is preceded by يَا e.g.: يَا أُسْتَاذُ يَا أُسْتَاذُ

But there are certain nouns and adjectives which never have tanwīn. They are called الصَّرْفِ الصَّرْفِ.

We have learnt in this book the following groups of nouns and adjectives which are الْمَمْنُوعُ مِنَ الصَّرْفِ:

2. Masculine proper nouns ending in «tā marbūṭah» (هٌ) e.g.: حُمْزَةُ ، أُسَامَةُ .

3. Masculine proper nouns ending in «-ān», e.g.: مُضَانُ، رَمَضَانُ، رَمَضَانُ،

4. Adjectives on the pattern of فَعْلَانُ , e.g.: كَسْلَانُ ، مَلاَنُ .

5. Masculine proper nouns on the pattern of أَفْعَلُ , e.g.: أَنْوَرُ .

6. Adjectives on the pattern أَفْعَلُ e.g.:

7. Non-Arabic proper nouns, e.g.: . . ثَانَدُنُ، بَاكِسْتَانُ . .

8. The following patterns of broken plural:

أَصْدِقَاءُ، أَغْنِيَاءُ، أَقْوِيَاءُ. e.g.: أَفْعِلَاءُ

فُقَرَاءُ، زُمَلَاءُ، وُزَرَاءُ. e.g.: فُعَلَاءُ (d.ż.

Note that أَفْعِلَاءُ is originally أَطْبِبَاءُ on the pattern of أُطْبِبَاءُ, but because of the assimilation of the two b's, the form has been slightly changed.

أُحْمَرُ	red		بَغْدَادُ	Baghdad

We have learnt before that a noun is مَجْرُورٌ when it:

a) is preceded by a preposition, e.g.:

b) is muḍāf ilayhi, e.g.:

Please note that a المَمْنُوعُ مِنَ الصَّرْفِ in these two situations takes a fatḥah instead of a kasrah. i.e. the مَجْرُورٌ ending in ordinary nouns is «-i», but in الصَّمْنُوعُ مِنَ it is «a», e.g.:
